

Welcome to the ScORSA Newsletter

Welcome to the autumn edition of the ScORSA Newsletter.

We will be shining a spotlight on the work of our members, bringing you the latest fleet safety news, and letting you know about upcoming events.

We are trying out a new format for our communications so would appreciate any feedback - let us know how you'd like to receive your ScORSA news! Just drop us a line on info@scorsa.org.uk.

We also look forward to seeing you at our St Andrew's webinar - to register, email info@scorsa.org.uk.

ScORSA Spotlight

Transport Scotland's Road Safety Consultation

Bertrand Deiss, head of road safety policy at Transport Scotland, recently spoke about ScORSA's role in helping to deliver Scotland's Road Safety Framework to 2030.

The draft framework is currently under consultation, which will close on December 1. You can have your say here.

Don't sleep on it

Roger Bibbings MBE, ScORSA and RoSPA MORR consultant, has written an insightful article about the impact that Excessive Sleepiness and Obstructive Sleep Apnoea can have on driving.

Roger writes: "The key message we want to get across is that employers must not cause their workers to drive tired. It needs an intelligent approach."

If you are experiencing fatigue and drive for work - don't sleep on it.

ScORSA Resources

Whole person, whole life webinar

ScORSA recently hosted a webinar on the whole person, whole life perspective on road safety. Attendees heard presentations from:

Dr Karen McDonnell, RoSPA OHS policy adviser and head of RoSPA Scotland, on lone and vulnerable workers including driving for work

Michael McDonnell, director, Road Safety Scotland on "The Power of Gran - A Wee Bit of Toot Up Yer Snoot"

PC Neil MacDonald, Highland and Islands Road Policing Unit, on older drivers/pedestrian safety.

If you missed the session you can listen to the recording here and you can access previous presentations by signing into the member area on the ScORSA website.

Fatigue and driving for work webinar

ScORSA will be hosting a series of webinars in place of the annual St Andrew's Seminar. The first one will be held on Thursday, November 26 starting at 10am, and will cover the issue of fatigue and driving for work. This will be an opportunity to discuss this topic online with colleagues from across Scotland. All ScORSA webinars are free to attend. To book your place send an email to info@scorsa.org.uk

MORR drop in

We are offering ScORSA members the opportunity to drop-in online on a Tuesday afternoon for an informal, one-to-one discussion on any area of Managing Occupational Road Risk that might benefit their organisation.

The 30 minute sessions will be by appointment only and available on Tuesday afternoons between 2-4pm. To book your slot, please email info@scorsa.org.uk
